

Instructions for Authors: Missouri Medicine 2018

About Missouri Medicine

Missouri Medicine, a peer-reviewed, award-winning medical journal printed on acid-free paper, has been in continuous publication since 1904. All scientific articles are peer-reviewed. Original articles are accepted for publication on the condition that they have not been published or submitted to other medical journals for consideration.

Missouri Medicine does not accept single or small series case reports with a literature review unless it is a first or second world literature report or there is some unique unreported aspect of the case. MSMA members are given publishing preference and priority. Material appearing in Missouri Medicine is protected by copyright.

Copyright Transfer/Disclosure

Unless agreed to in writing, Missouri Medicine retains and is protected by copyright. Every article requires a copyright transmittal, financial disclosure and photograph/graphic release signed/mailed/initialed by all authors. Manuscripts without this copyright transfer/financial disclosure signed by all authors will delay the peer-review and publishing process. The copyright/graphic transmittal and release and financial disclosure can be downloaded from <http://www.msma.org/missouri-medicine.html>. Missouri Medicine is an open access publication and archived at <http://www.msma.org/missouri-medicine-library.html>. Reprinting and linking to other educational websites can be arranged through the managing editor.

Corresponding Authors

If there are multiple authors, one should be designated corresponding author. Title page must include all contact information of corresponding author including mailing address, email, phone, and fax numbers. For each author, please state the author's highest academic appointment and teaching institution affiliation.

Manuscripts

Manuscripts should be typed in 12-point font; paragraphs double-spaced; pages numbered with running header. A synopsis or abstract of 75 words or less must precede scientific articles. The abstract plus text (not references) should not exceed 3,000 words.

References

Refer to the American Medical Association Manual of Style, 10th Ed., AMA, Chicago, 2007. References should be cited in numerical order and presented at end of the article in the order they are cited. All references must be cited as superscripts, without parentheses, not footnotes, within the manuscript with 40 or fewer references. Reference numbers must be placed outside of punctuation. References must include author, title, periodical, year, volume number and page numbers/website. Authors are responsible for accuracy of references.

Reference example within text:

The risk of severe disease with a third or fourth infection decreases dramatically.¹

Example in reference listing:

1. Anglen JO. Trauma centers: Heading for a world of hurt. Missouri Medicine 2001;98:49-52.

Illustrations and Photographs of Lead Author(s)

Illustrations, photographs, tables, charts, figures and photographs of lead author(s) must be submitted as high-resolution 300 dpi or higher TIFF or EPS electronic images and NOT imbedded within text. Legends must accompany graphics. Total illustrations, photographs, tables, charts, and figures are ideally fewer than 4 per article. PLEASE NOTE: Internet screen shots and files and/or low resolution graphics/photographs are not acceptable.

Submission Process

Submit all files by email. Files must be processed in a Windows operating environment with a Microsoft Word extension. A complete submission includes the following files: title page with contact information, article and references, and accompanying tables, illustrations, photos, with legends, and copyright transfer and disclosure, which can be downloaded at <http://www.msma.org/missouri-medicine.html>. Email all files to BOTH the Editor and the Managing Editor. See contact information below. Expect to receive notification of receipt within 10 days. Peer review is usually complete within 30-45 days of receipt.

Departments, Perspectives & Opinions

- Missouri Medicine publishes articles on a variety of medical trends, issues and policy matters that affect the physician health care community in Missouri and the US.
- Medical-Legal - Legal topics that affect physicians and healthcare.
- Socio-Economic - Articles on legislation, policy, insurance, management, etc.
- Public Health - Reports that cover topical and important public health issues.
- Perspectives - Topics presented by health care professionals with different areas of expertise.
